PULSE IN SHORT...

The project 'Pulse: Language and Communication Skills for Foreign Nurses' has the aim to improve language and communication competences of nurses working in a foreign country, or planning to work abroad. Through variety of activities and intellectual outputs the target group representatives will be provided with opportunities to increase their competences, skills and attitudes to the work place specifics.

Pulse supports acquiring and using knowledge, skills and qualifications to facilitate nurses' personal development, employability and high quality participation in the European labour market.

KICK-OFF MEETING IN SOFIA, BULGARIA

In January 2017, all partners attended a kick-off meeting to discuss and agree on the detailed plan for project implementation and the schedule for fulfilling the ambitious project targets and to set up short-term tasks.

THE MAIN PROJECT OBJECTIVES:

- Improve linguistic, communication and intercultural skills of foreign nurses relevant to the medical workplace
- Improve competences of nurses like: learning to learn skills and digital competences, competences for developing and strengthening own learning style
- Increase motivation of nurses to get involved in learning providing them with access to language learning resources
- Improve capacities of universities, VET and language providers by delivering to them tailored products: workplace language learning didactic and materials relevant to nurses

THE FIRST PROJECT STAGE FORESEES THE FOLLOWING TASKS:

- Create focus groups with representatives of the target groups: nursing professionals, employers in the health sector in France, Italy and the Netherlands and language providers and organisations providing vocational training for nurses
- Conduct a Pulse European Survey to get a clear picture of what language, communication and intercultural competencies are needed by foreign nurses
- Develop E-learning methodology and curriculum for workplace language and communication for nurses

WHAT'S NEXT ON PULSE...

The second work meeting will take place on 8-9 June 2017 in Rotterdam, The Netherlands. The partners will present and discuss the results of the European survey and hold a workshop to create the initial draft of the E-learning methodology.

The project will be run from September 1st 2016 till 30 September 2018.
